Attempt of Weiser, Idaho, Boy to Start Fire With Coal Oil
Ends in Disaster.

Special to The Tribune.

WEISER, Ida., July 16.—Fire destroyed the residence of S. Buckbee this morning. The house, and practically all of its contents, even to the clothes of the family, were destroyed. The fire was caused by attempting to start a fire in the cook stove with coal oil. A son of Buckbee, about 10 years old, put oil in the stove, and there were evidently live coals in the stove, as the flames burst forth, enveloping the boy and setting fire to the house. The boy was not injured. The loss will amount to several hundred dollars.

IDAHO PIONEER DEAD;
A NOTEWORTHY MAN

Special to The Tribune.

BURLEY, Ida., July 16.—Henry Schodde, one of the oldest residents in southern Idaho, died at his farm home near Heyburn Wednesday evening of Bright's disease. Death came suddenly, although he had been in poor health for some time. Interment was made today in the cemetery at Albion.

Henry Schodde had for many years been engaged in farming and stock raising in Idaho, and had accumulated considerable wealth. The value of his possessions being estimated at the way from $100,000 to $200,000. He is survived by a widow and several children.

The name of the deceased was brought into prominence a few years ago as the result of litigation with the Twin Falls Land and Water company at the time the Milner dam was constructed. Mr. Schodde had a number of water wheels in Snake river, near Burley, by means of which water was raised to irrigate several hundred acres of land. The natural flow of the river keeping the wheels in motion. When the dam was built the current was checked, so that the wheels were rendered useless and the land practically worthless. The company could not arrive at satisfactory terms with Mr. Schodde in settlement for damages caused him by constructing the dam, and recourse was made to the courts. The case has been a long-drawn-out one and is not settled yet. About a year ago notice was served from the United States court at San Francisco granting a new trial, the decisions in the case up to this time being against Schodde and in favor of the company. Reple of the case was made by Senator Borah, James H. Hawley, Judge Parker, J. C. Rogers and other prominent Idaho attorneys.

WILSON LOOKING AFTER HIS WESTERN INTERESTS

By Associated Press.

MISSOULA, Mont., July 16.—Secretary James A. Wilson reached Missoula last night for a tour of the western forests. He was suffering from the fatigue of the long journey from Washington, but after resting here and in Hamilton over Sunday, he will proceed to the Kootenai country to investigate the question of opening forest reserve lands for homestead purposes. The investigation being conducted by Secretary Wilson is the outcome of a great cry sent up by the farmers of Lincoln county, who demand that more lands be opened for farming yearly. Last year 4,000 acres were eliminated from the forest reserve on the Kootenai reserve, and the settlers clamor to open 6,000 more. There are 76,000 acres in dispute altogether in the forests coming under the jurisdiction of the department.

Of his trip Mr. Wilson says as follows: "It is my business to look after the agricultural land of the country, and for that reason I am in the west now. The Kootenai situation is the one which has brought me here, and when I have gathered data concerning that controversy I may possibly visit other forest districts."

The hot weather has affected the secretary of agriculture somewhat, and tomorrow will be spent in some quiet and shady nook of the Bitter Root valley.

DEATH BY ASPHYXIATION IS NARROWLY AVERTED

Special to The Tribune.

OGDEN, July 16.—Death lurked in a box car at the Rio Grande transfer platform this morning, and but for the prompt arrival of Dr. R. S. Joyce and the timely use of stimulants, six members composing the transfer gang under Foreman H. Shurtliff would have been asphyxiated by chlorine gas.

The men had been put to work in the car, which had been slightly damaged in transit, to transfer a number of barrels containing chlorinated lime to another car. Suddenly one of the men was seen to drop. In rapid succession the others engaged on the work fell.

A hurried call was sent for a physician and the men were dragged from the car to the fresh air, where restoratives were used. Gradually, one by one, they were resuscitated.

The chlorinated lime was destined for the west, but owing to the condition of the car, it had to be transferred before the Southern Pacific company would accept it for shipment over its line. The lime is used by laundries to bleach clothing. It is not usually considered dangerous except in warm weather, when, if dampened, deadly gas will exude. It is supposed that the barrels containing lime became damp from a leaky roof and the gas was generated in this manner.

HUDSON AVENUE BONDS

Special to The Tribune.

OGDEN, July 16.—An order of Judge T. D. Lewis of Salt Lake in which the bond furnished by Ogden City to protect the property owners in the path of the Hudson avenue extension from all damages occasioned by the lengthening of the street was found to be faulty. The bond was issued by the city and was made by John A. Stimson, a restaurateur, whose place of business will be almost totally destroyed by the extension of the street. The court in its order held that the bond was "conditioned to pay all damages arising from occupancy before judgment in case of loss or injury to property." The court costs adjudged to the defendants in the action.

Suit Attorney James DeVine left for Salt Lake this afternoon with a copy of a bond to conform with the court's order, and it is expected that the work of razing the buildings to the ground will begin on Monday.

SUIT AGAINST ATTORNEYS

Special to The Tribune.

OGDEN, July 16.—A second amended complaint, in which Daniel Burch is suing H. H. Henderson of Ogden and H. R. Macmillan of Salt Lake, former law partners, for $250, said to be due him for services rendered, has been filed with the county clerk. Burch recites the history of an alleged transaction in which he claims to have been employed by the attorneys to obtain the consent of his brother, R. M. Burch, to place a claim against the Utah and Pacific Railroad company in their hands.

According to the complaint, Henderson & Macmillan brought suit and recovered $20,000 damages and interest in the federal court in Salt Lake. Of this judgment, $10,000 was paid to R. M. Burch, the injured man. The plaintiff asserts that the attorneys agreed to pay him one-fourth of the amount they received from the suit, but that they have refused to do so.

LARGE CLASS OF MOOSE
INITIATED INTO ORDER

Special to The Tribune.

OGDEN, July 16.—The Ogden lodge of the Loyal Order of Moose was installed here tonight, when the first class of more than 200 members was conducted into the lodge. The ceremony was held at the Odd Fellows' hall by Deputy Supreme Organizer F. Colenberg. Two hundred members of the order came up from Salt Lake and were met at the depot by members of the local lodge. A parade, headed by Organizer Colenberg, a band of music and a platoon of police, marched up through the principal streets of the city, which were brilliantly lighted for the occasion by chains of incandescent lights.

At the Odd Fellows' hall, the lodge class was handled with dispatch by the deputy supreme organizer, and the lodge was instituted without a hitch. Mr. Colenberg delivered an address, in which he explained the purposes and desires of the order. The movement to establish a lodge in Ogden was the result of a long and arduous struggle. A home for indigent members, and an industrial home, was explained. The announcement was made that property valued at $200,000 will be donated by the people of Muncie, Ind., if the industrial home is established there. SEEKS TO COLLECT FROM
FIRE INSURANCE COMPANY

Special to The Tribune.

OGDEN, July 16.—Claiming that the Western Fire insurance company, a corporation, is indebted to him in the sum of $3000, under the terms of an insurance policy held, H. J. Wells has begun suit in the district court to collect this amount.

Wells says that a policy for $3000 was issued on his home at Ogden, which was destroyed by fire on June 20, 1909, upon the payment of the first premium of $71.31. On July 18, 1909, the fire totally destroyed the residence and its contents. The Western Fire insurance company was organized at Ogden several years ago. Although it was organized as a corporation, it became known as a "wildcat" company after State Insurance Commissioner Willard Lane had made an investigation and prohibited the company from doing business in the state. B. H. Cannon, known here as a first-class real estate and insurance agent, was president of the company, and O. O. Oldham, now in the county jail awaiting trial on a charge of issuing a number of bogus checks, was the company's secretary.

FOUNDING OF EPISCOPAL CHURCH TO BE OBSERVED

Special to The Tribune.

OGDEN, July 16.—On July 17, 1870, forty years ago, the Episcopal church was established in Ogden. There was no Episcopal church in Ogden at that time, so the Rev. J. L. Gifford, recently graduated from a Connecticut college, came to Ogden and introduced the faith of the mother church into this then desolate land. He contented himself with the use of the little railroad depot in which to hold religious services. A nearby box car served as the church for a few years. The church was then moved to its present site on Broadway. The church is now a fine building, and the service will be held there on Monday.

A DEMENTED MAN;
AIMLESS WANDERINGS

Special to The Tribune.

BRIGHAM CITY, July 16.—At a late hour yesterday afternoon the sheriff's office in this city received word from William J. McCall, a man who had been in that neighborhood. The telephone report stated that the man acted very much like a demented person, and when last seen was making his way toward this city with his hat off on a fast run.

Sheriff Josephson and the precinct constable hurried to Willard in a buggy and found the man in a dazed condition. The officers took the man in charge, and putting him in the buggy, started for this city. The man was erect with his arms down at his side and had nothing to say. They had not gone far, however, before the stranger took the position in which he had been placed when put into the buggy, and the officers then hurried on to this city. The man's pockets revealed a number of papers which bore the name of William McCall, and his home is supposed to be in San Francisco. He also had a railroad ticket to San Francisco that had been punched in Ogden yesterday.

A search of the man's pockets revealed every evidence that the man was well to do, as he had in his possession receipts for money paid out to the amount of $100.00, besides considerable money. He was ordinarily well dressed. It is thought by some that the high altitude was the cause of the man becoming suddenly insane. San Francisco officials were notified with the hopes that the man's identification may be learned and the man's remains disposed of. The man was apparently about 35 years old.

PREDICTION OF WAR WITH JAPAN REPEATED

By Associated Press.

VICTORIA, B. C., July 16.—That war between America and Japan cannot be avoided is the theme of a special article in the Osaka Mainichi, received today by the empress of China. The Japanese writer says: "It is now being anticipated in diplomatic circles in general that in the future, when the relations between Japan and America become more strained—which will certainly result from a continued collision of interests—the ministry will have to accomplish the painful duty of informing the other country's government that the result of such collision will be an outbreak of war. It will be pitiful, indeed, if, even on that occasion, Japan adheres to diplomatic compliments and states that no collision will take place. Why do the Japanese not boldly and openly say that there will be a collision. If they think that the Americans will believe the Japanese assertions that a collision will never take place, they will deceive themselves—certainly not the Americans."

TWENTY INJURED IN WRECK OF MONORAIL

By Associated Press.

NEW YORK, July 16.—Twenty persons were injured, only one seriously, in the first commercial trip this afternoon of the new monorail service between City Island and Battery Park, in the suburbs of the Bronx. Howard Tunis, the inventor, who was motorman, broke a rib and one passenger broke a leg. The latter was the only one of the injured to go to a hospital.

Although described as a monorail, the only car the company yet owns did not depend for its stability on a gyroscope. For support and traction it ran on a single rail, but twin guide rails overlaid hung between pillars and lateral braces on either side of the right of way held it in balance.

While the car was running 30 miles an hour one of these guide rails worked loose and the car tilted 40 degrees, piling the frightened passengers in the lower angle. The pillars at either side of the car prevented it from toppling entirely.
